Outside of the office, I enjoy getting together with friends and grilling out. My favorite time of the year is fall. A big part of that (other than the weather and my birthday) is college football. I love tailgating for Kentucky football games and, like most other folks in the Commonwealth, am a big UK basketball fan.

I'm trying to get into running to stay in shape (this year I completed the Louisville Triple Crown). On my list of things I would really like to do soon include getting a golden retriever, renovating an old house, and snow skiing out west.
